Freddie Fox, 10, Dies Today Of Burns Suffered In Coal Oil Explosion At Small Campfire

An 10-year-old boy died at 5 a.m. today at the Warner hospital of burns received at 4:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, and his 14-year-old brother was in serious condition from the burns he suffered when coal oil was thrown over a small campfire over which they were frying potatoes in front of a shack near their farm home.

Frederick Burnell Fox, son of Mr. and Mrs. Grayson Fox, Biglerville R. 2, died as the result of burns and shock. His brother, Edward Charles Fox, also received first, second and third degree burns, but hopes were held for his recovery.

The brothers, with a neighbor boy, Raymond Kump, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Kump, had gone to the shack, located close to the bank of Marsh creek, near Cashtown, on the former J. C. Minter farm, now owned by I. Z. Musselman, Orrtanna, where the Fox family reside and where Mr. Fox is employed.

They built a small fire and were sitting around it trying to fry potatoes in a skillet, according to state police of the Gettysburg substation.

Threw Oil On Fire
Police said the Kump boy, on the opposite side of the fire from the Fox brothers, threw coal oil from a can onto the fire "to make it burn better." Some of the oil splashed on the brothers and ignited when the fire flared up, setting fire to their clothing.

Frederick started to run for his home, while Edward jumped into the creek, authorities said. Frederick turned back, however, and also jumped into the water. A neighbor, Martin Schmitz, whose home is about a quarter mile away, brought the boys to the hospital. The Kump boy was not burned.

Most of the clothing was burned from the bodies of the Fox boys, state police said, and their bodies were badly seared.

No Inquest Planned
The small shack was one "which the Fox boys had built in the woods near the creek bank. The farm where they lived is known as the Magnetic farm, on the old Hilltown-Mummasburg road, about a mile east of Cashtown and northwest of McKnightstown.

Dr. C. G. Crist, Adams county coroner, who also investigated the fatality, said no inquest would be held.

The dead boy is survived by his parents, and six brothers and sisters, Edward, in the hospital; Mrs. Estelle Plank, near Cashtown; Mrs. Betty Sease, Knoxlyn; George Fox, employed on the Foxhill farm, on the McKnightstown-Arendtsville road, and Bobby and Linda, at home.

Second Tragedy
Also surviving are the paternal grandmother, Mrs. Nellie M. Fox, Cascade, Md., and maternal grandmother, Mrs. Lizzie Tressler, Fairfield R. 1.

Funeral services Saturday at 10 a.m. from the Bender funeral home conducted by the Rev. Robert C. Schiebel, Arendtsville. Interment in the Mountaineer cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home Friday evening after 7 o'clock.

Another sister, Ruth Jean, died on May 13, 1944, when a tractor which Mr. Fox was backing into a shed ran over the child. She was 17 months old.

CHURCH FILM SCENES MOVE TO HOSPITAL

Filming of "For Good or Evil," the United Lutheran Church in America-Catholic Films production, moved to the Warner hospital this morning where scenes were shot in the corridors and a hospital room with Dr. Raymond Hale, Miss Lois Benson, director of nurses; Mrs. Anna Mae Teeter, Miss Caroline Culver, nurses, and Alex Boertkive, orderly, among hospital staff members taking part in the scenes.

This afternoon the unit is scheduled to go to Biglerville to take a number of scenes there.

The work today was slightly out of schedule for the production. Tuesday a motor which synchronizes the sound and film camera broke down and as a result the shots being taken today are ones without sound, with a narrator's voice to be dubbed in later.

Henry Endress, of the ULCA, said that the motor which failed is one of only six in existence and that an RCA engineer from New York worked throughout the night in an attempt to restore it to use. Today the sound-camera system was being retired for use of another type motor in order to permit the crew to resume Thursday making both sound and film shots.

In the completed picture the shots filmed at the Warner hospital this morning will appear immediately after scenes of an automobile wreck. The "auto wreck" scenes were shot last week in the Arendtsville fire house.

NEW AUTHORITY TO BE SOUGHT FOR FINANCING GHS BUILDING

The Gettysburg Joint School district moved a step nearer on Tuesday evening to securing its proposed addition to the Gettysburg high school building.

At a special meeting of the joint school board in the high school auditorium, the Planning committee was authorized to go before the Gettysburg borough council to ask the establishment of a Gettysburg School Authority which would sell bonds with which to finance the new school building.

Attorney Richard A. Brown, solicitor for the joint school board, explained the authority plan to the directors and said the matter will be laid before the local town council at its next meeting August 7. After the authority is set up, the Gettysburg, Cumberland, Freedom, Highland and Strasburg township school boards will be asked to enter into contracts with the authority for the erection of the new building expected to cost upwards of $150,000.

Explains Authority Plan
Ralph W. Guise, who is president of the Strasburg township board and vice president of the joint board, presided at Tuesday's meeting. He also is chairman of the Planning committee and will call that group into session in the near future in preparation for the appearance before the borough council.

Explaining legal points involved in the authority plan, Mr. Brown said that a study of the school finance problem by the Planning committee and other local school officials had shown that the creation of an authority would be the best procedure in view of the statutory limitation of school loans up to two per cent of the assessed valuation. He pointed out that an authority created to handle the currently proposed school addition would create a body that could serve for other future major building projects in the future.

He said a joint authority could be formed by having the road supervisors of each of the four townships and the local borough council adopt resolutions creating an authority and name one member of the authority board. Then the joint authority board would incorporate and finance the school project.

Preferable To Holding Company
He pointed out the probability of undue delays in waiting for action by five municipal boards for the creation of the authority and said a Gettysburg school authority to serve all the districts of the jointure could be set up by the action of Gettysburg borough council alone.

The school board has no power to set up the authority.

That procedure was recommended by Mr. Brown who said that, while all members of the authority board would have to be from Gettysburg borough, their only real function would be to print and sell bonds. All of their actions in connection with the actual building of the school (Please Turn to Page 3)

Three persons were injured, none seriously, at 2:25 p.m. Tuesday afternoon at the intersection of the Gettysburg-Carlisle highway and the Gardners-Peach Glen road.

Brymmer was traveling west. He stopped to let a truck pass, police said, and then pulled into the intersection in the path of the Cleveland automobile. The latter was traveling south.

DINES TUESDAY
IN NEW ROOMS

A history of the erection of the new church school building just completed by the congregation of the Zion Reformed church, Arendtsville, was presented by the pastor, Rev. Nevin R. Frantz, at a congregational dinner meeting held Tuesday evening in the new social room with approximately 200 in attendance.

Rev. Frantz gave the invocation and led group singing. He prefaced his remarks on the history of the construction project with a word of welcome and asserted that "this gathering in this building brings to completion a dream that you have been looking forward to for a long time. This building represents the fulfillment of hopes expressed by many of you. It stands here as a tribute to all who have labored in the erection of it."

The Rev. Mr. Frantz said that while the new church building had its beginning "in the hearts of the members prior to January of 1949," it was at that time that the first concrete step was taken toward the construction of the new church building with the appointment of a general building committee of 21 persons. Included in the group were the teachers and one representative from each class, the superintendents (Please Turn to Page 2)

Machinegunned
By Reds; Lives
By HAL BOYLE

An Advance Airbase in Korea, July 26 (AP)—A tall young tank corporal said today North Koreans forced him and two other bound American prisoners to lie face down under a tree and then machinegunned them.

"I was the only one to escape alive," grimly said the corporal, a 21-year-old Irishman from the Bronx, N. Y. "A flight of our fighter planes frightened them off before they found out I wasn't dead."

The slender, brown-haired gunner, suffering from three bullet wounds in his left shoulder, told his story as he lay on a cot here awaiting evacuation by air to a hospital in Japan. His wrists were infected where wire fetters had cut into the flesh. His name was withheld.

He said that five American light tanks going up a road seven miles north of Yonkdo Monday ran into a force of 800 guerrillas. A shell hit the gas tank of his vehicle and the crew abandoned it.

"I stayed behind long enough to put a thermite bomb in the breach of our gun and destroy it,"

TRUMAN ASKS 'SOME SACRIFICE' BY U.S. CIVILIANS

By STERLING F. GREEN
Washington, July 26 (AP)—President Truman today summoned the nation to "some sacrifice" of its civilian plenty. He declared himself ready to call for "complete economic mobilization" if the defense of freedom requires.

Mr. Truman told Congress, in his midyear economic message, that price ceilings, rationing and "serious shortages" can be avoided if Congress quickly gives him limited control powers and a $5,000,000,000 tax increase.

But he warned: "We must realize that the engagement in Korea will be costly and may not be short. We must prepare against the possibility that new crises may arise elsewhere."

Must Boost Output
That hazard means, the President said, that industrial output must be stepped up—possibly by a rate of $10,000,000,000 annually before January 1—and that basic industry itself must be expanded by federal loans and guarantees.

"We cannot afford longer to risk the possibility of future desperate shortages of some of the most essential requirements for our national security," Mr. Truman said.

He did not name steel specifically as one of the industries critically needing expansion. But it headed his list of "scarcity" materials, despite capacity operation since April.

Safety from further Communist aggression depends, Mr. Truman said, on "production and more production," and safety from inflation depends on business and consumers alike refraining from "hoarding and avarice."

The message asked no emergency powers beyond those requested a week ago—to control credit, allocate scarce materials, limit civilian output, requisition goods, curb commodity speculation, and help finance industry's expansion for war.

BARUCH URGES PRICE 'FREEZE'

Washington, July 26 (AP)—Elder Statesman Bernard Baruch today called for all-out economic mobilization of the United States with a quick freeze on prices, wages and rents.

"Events have left us no choice," he said. "We have to mobilize."

Baruch, the government's mobilization advisor in two world wars, urged quick action in testimony prepared for the Senate Banking committee.

The Senators are weighing a bill to give President Truman limited wartime controls in the present emergency. These would not include price control of any kind.

Baruch's recommendations included—but went far beyond—the President's requests. In his statement, Baruch referred to his former calls for economic mobilization. These led to differences between him and President Truman. Baruch has taken the position that the President was not doing enough for preparedness.

"Our aim should be to organize the nation so that every factory and farm, every man, every dollar, every bit of material can be put to use where it will strengthen our defenses and fill the most essential needs first," Baruch told the committee.

MORSE BREAKS WITH MCARTHY

Washington, July 26 (AP)—Senator Morse (R-Ore.) lined up today with Senate Democrats who contend that Senator McCarthy (R-Wis.) has failed so far to prove his Communist-in-government charges.

Breaking ranks with many of his GOP colleagues of the issue, Morse expressed his views to reporters after:

1. Senate developments brought out that the "Mr. X" of the state department who McCarthy accused of being a Communist is Edward G. Posniak.

2. Posniak, a 39-year-old economist who was born in Moscow, flatly denied that he ever has been a Communist. He called McCarthy's accusation "vicious and libelous" and declared he is "completely loyal to the United States and completely opposed to communism."

3. Rep. Velde (R-Ill.) said he will urge the house un-American activities committee to investigate the Posniak case, as McCarthy proposed. Velde, a member of the committee, added that he will ask that Posniak be summoned to testify.

Morse, often at odds with the majority of Senate Republicans, declined to say whether he feels that McCarthy's charges are "a fraud and a hoax"—the conclusion reached by the Democratic members of a Senate Foreign Relations sub-

Approved Plans
This general building committee met first February 1, 1949, to discuss a rough set of plans drawn up by Charles Ziegler. After discussing whether to build a new building or to excavate the cellar of the church it was decided to center attention on the erection of a new church school building. Rev. Prantz was authorized to appoint a smaller committee to advance building plans.

This sub-committee met in March to consider a sketch drawn up by George Flickinger, architect, and to review plans presented by Mr. Flickinger. The architect met with the general building committee March 21, 1949, when the plans were approved.

Next on May 8 these plans and sketch were presented at a congregational meeting by the general building committee together with the recommendations that the cost should not exceed $35,000 and that the building should have a flat roof to permit the building of a second story should the need for it arise. The Texas Lunch and Moose strengthened their grips on first and second place, respectively, in the Softball league by scoring victories Tuesday evening.

In the opening game the lunchmen encountered little trouble in winning from the Lentz Legion 19-6. The teams were tied up at 2-all at the end of the third frame but the league leaders came up with six tallies in the fourth and went on to win easily. Himes and Smith each pounded out three hits for their respective teams.

Four runs in the seventh inning by the Moose enabled them to down the Elks 11-7 in a nip and tuck affair. After the Moose got off to a 4-0 lead the Elks pushed over three in the fourth, featured by a three-run homer by Bobby Sachs.

Both teams tallied a trio of runs in the sixth. The defeat was costly to the Elks as Ross Sachs, star hurler, suffered a fractured finger on his right hand by a line drive early in the contest. Dick Dreas and Rogers finished the pitching chores. Tom McGaughlin hurled for the winners.

A large crowd is expected tonight when the four first division teams will be in action against each other.

INDIANS LOOM AS BIG THREAT IN LOOP RACE

By JOE REICHLER

(Associated Press Sports Writer)
Cleveland's rampaging Indians, looking more menacing each day, loom as the real "dark horse" in the jumbled American league pennant race.

No club in the league—and that includes the pace-setting Detroit Tigers and runner-up New York Yankees—has looked better than Lou Boudreau's men, who have run up 12 triumphs in their last 16 games.

Whereas three weeks ago, the Indians trailed the Tigers by seven full games, they are only two and a half games out today. Thanks to a 7-6 triumph over Philadelphia last night while both the Tigers and Yankees were losing, the Indians find themselves in the best position they've been all year.

True, they still are in third place, one length back of the Yankees and three in front of the Boston Red Sox, but they are in good shape to make a whale of a battle out of it the rest of the way. They own three top flight pitchers in Bob Lemon, Bob Feller and Early Wynn. And in rookies Al Rosen and Luke Easter, they possess two of the top sluggers in the game.

Feller Gains 10th

Feller was the winner yesterday although he needed help from Lemon in the ninth. It was Bob's 10th triumph of the year. He got a big lift from Easter, who smashed his 18th and 19th homers off loser Alex Keener.

The Red Sox won a 7-6 nip-and-tuck affair from Detroit, scoring three runs in the eighth off relief pitcher Hal White to overcome a 6-4 deficit. Three runs in each of the fifth and seventh innings had enabled the Tigers to overcome an early 4-0 Boston lead. Each club used four pitchers, with Chuck Stobbs the winner and White the loser.

Stubby Overmire pitched the St. Louis Browns to a 4-3 victory over the Yankees. The little lefthander, who holds two of the three Brownie wins over New York, had a three-hit shutout until the ninth. Four hits, including a two-run homer by Johnny Mize, gave the Yankees three runs. Overmire batted in what proved to be the winning runs with a two-run single off Vic Raschi in the fifth.

Fine relief pitching by Joe Haynes and strong stickwork by Sam Mele and Gil Coan helped Washington triumph over the Chicago White Sox, 7-4.

Phils Lead Again

Philadelphia's Phillies moved back to the top of the National league by handing the Chicago Cubs two shutout defeats, 7-0 and 1-0. Bubba Church hurled a three-hitter in the opener and Robin Roberts followed with a six-hitter. It was the latter's 12th triumph. Johnny Klippstein and Bob Rush were the victors.

The Cubs now have suffered through three straight shutout losses. They were beaten, 3-0, in the second game of Sunday's doubleheader with the New York Giants.

The Phils' double win put them a half game in front of the St. Louis Cardinals, who whipped the Brooklyn Dodgers, 9-5. The Boston Braves moved into the third spot, two and a half games off the pace, by thrashing the Pittsburgh Pirates, 7-2, as Johnny Sain notched his 13th success of the season.

A five-run eighth inning and another tally in the ninth on Bob Usher's error gave the New York Yankees a 7-6 triumph over Cincinnati.

Del Rice's three-run homer highlighted a four-run eighth inning which enabled the Cards to overcome a 5-3 Dodge lead. It marked the first St. Louis win in Ebbets Field this year.

The Cards' Stan Musial cracked a home run, double and single to extend his consecutive hitting streak through 29 games.

Interstate League

(By The Associated Press)
The Interstate league's drop in attendance this season can hardly be blamed on the way things are shaping up in the loop's pennant race.

Five of the eight clubs could wind up in first place. The pace-setting Wilmington Blue Rocks are only three games in front of Hagerstown, five and a half ahead of Trenton, seven ahead of Harrisburg and eight and a half ahead of Allentown. The Allentown Cardinals rallied for two runs in the 13th inning last night to down Wilmington 8-6.

Roger Frebel's four-hit pitching backed by an 11-hit attack gave the Harrisburg Senators a 3-0 win over the second-place Hagerstown Braves. Tommy Korczowski's 38th double of the campaign—a new Trenton record for one season—enabled the Giants to trip the Lancaster Red Roses 7-5. York defeated Sunbury 7-1 as Jim Lawler turned in a five-hit performance and Tom Astbury hit a grand slam homer in the ninth inning.

Tonight's schedule: Allentown at Wilmington, Hagerstown at Harrisburg, Lancaster at Trenton and York and Sunbury.

Sports Roundup

By GAYLE TALBOT
New York, July 26 (AP)—Alick Man, Jr., first gasped "you're fooling," and then, after a moment's painful reflection, muttered "it's simply unbelievable."

Man is the non-playing captain of Uncle Sam's Davis cup tennis team, and he just had received a nasty shock in the form of news that Herbie Flam, a coast youth, had given Ted Schroeder an unmerciful pasting in the final of the clay court championships at Chicago.

Only a few minutes before, in discussing prospects for the team which will defend the cup—doubtless against Australia again—toward the end of August, Man had expressed his fullest confidence that Schroeder was playing himself into form and would be ready for the big test.

And then the bombshell—Schroeder polished off in 50 minutes flat by the intercollegiate champion, Flam, who almost certainly has never entered Man's thoughts as a possible member of the team which will face the Aussies.

"Of course," Man finally said, somewhat weakly, "Flam's game is better adapted to clay than Ted's is. Ted has always been at his best on the faster grass courts. But, still, that doesn't explain his winning only five games from Flam in three sets."

Indeed, it does not. Nor does it mean anything except that the U. S. Davis cup forces are in the most precarious position they have been in since they were defeated by the Australians in the 1939 challenge round. If we keep the cup this time it really will be a wonder.

$2500 Damage in Church Fire at Littlestown: Services were held as usual on Sunday at St. Aloysius Catholic church, the sacristy and sanctuary of which were destroyed or irreparably damaged by fire of undetermined origin Friday night.

The fire was discovered by William Sneeringer, Littlestown.

Ten minutes later the Littlestown

Fire Department was on the scene and the fire was under control, not, however, before considerable damage had been done to the sacristy, where expensive vestments and altar linens are kept, all of which were destroyed.

Rev. Father William Boyle, who is supplying at St. Aloysius during the illness of the Rev. Father Edward O'Flynn, was at a loss to account for the origin of the blaze since no services had been held at the church since Sunday.

He said an estimate of $2500 damage was conservative.

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

RELIGION

Religion is what has given to human beings their greatest comfort and hold on life. All about us are the facts confirming the existence of a creative and ever mindful God.
There is born within us all the urge to be better, kinder, and more helpful to others. Planted within us all is the seed of God!

I like to think of all out-of-doors as God's great cathedral, especially away from the marts of trade and the teeming swarms of people whose greatest thought is for gain. You don't have to hunt for God, for He is everywhere. In every flower He abides, and His voice echoes through forests, valleys, over mountain tops and into the humblest of homes.

I regret all cults, dogmas, and associations that do not glorify God as the supreme idea beyond all formal manifestations. I don't like to see God divided up. He should be one everywhere, for His works and influence are universal.

Religion has seeped through all the races of man from the earliest times. The savages have theirs to this day. It is essential to our happiest development that we cling to a religious faith. The best religion is not that one which is heralded afar, but that one which abides most in one's heart, giving hope and solace.
That religion which is felt, not spoken, but acted out. Its name, in fact, is unimportant.

Ever since the world began, religious nations have made the greatest progress, and have contributed most to the happiness of their people, as well as benefiting all nations. In a free democracy, no matter what the faith of an individual may be, it is his to cherish and abide by, without question or interference. So long as God is in the center, that's all that matters.

The moment that God gets into the human heart He starts doing things—cleaning things up and renovating life itself for such a one. It should be an outstanding event, a happy day to celebrate, not once a year, but every day of one's life.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Appreciation and Gratitude."

QUARRELSOME A AND B

A and B are a quarrelsome pair.
Whatever the game they play,
It's A contending that B's unfair;
B saying the same of A.
And as wise as Solomon must be he Who settles the wrangles of A and B.

The official journal of golf I read

Has frequently pages three

Entirely filled with the bitter need

'Tis plain that neither can rest con-

It is always A in a fight with B

And B in a row with A.

And this is the question that puz-

Why together they want to play.

I'm sure it would be no fun for me

To golf with either one—A or B.

FORESEE LONG, HARD PULL FOR WORLD PEACE

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

(AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)

America's sudden shift from a program emphasizing economic well-being to a tremendously costly rearmament project, coupled with a similar move among her Atlantic pact allies in western Europe, puts an entirely new complexion on life for the democracies—and it isn't a rosy one.

No, that's not predicting another global war. On the contrary, this rearmament is calculated to forestall any possible aggression. It is recognition of the increasingly obvious fact that military weakness among the democracies now would be an invitation to attack.

The rape of Korea has been fresh warning of Moscow's project of wearing us down economically and militarily by isolated assaults.
It's the old divide-and-conquer scheme, and numerous similar Red attacks appear in the offing.

May Have Been Red Error

As a matter of fact communism may have cut its own throat by the Korean aggression. Had it not been for Korea, America and the western European members of the Atlantic pact would have pushed steadily along with their economic welfare programs, and this would have been done at the expense of wholesale rearmament.

Now the search for security has suddenly shifted from the ideal of balanced budgets to air-tight military strength capable of meeting any eventuality.

And for clarity's sake let's emphasize that this change isn't because the western authorities believe another world war is inevitthat it is possible and that military weakness on their part would increase that possibility.

Rushing Plans

Until recently the western allies had figured that it would take Russia three or four years to reach economic and military preparedness.
That fact was taken into consideration by the Atlantic pact nations in laying their own plans for developing military security. Now they suddenly find that this estimate was far too optimistic.

So we see America and her allies rushing plans to meet any possible attack. That is the all important subject now before the twelve deputies of the North Atlantic council meeting in London. The London Times comments on the situation:
"The time may be nearer than had been thought when the Soviet government may feel itself free to go ahead with expansion and war, confident of being able to cope with any military reactions of which the western powers are capable."

HECKENLUBER GIVES PLANS ON NEPPCO MEET

Roy Heckenluber, of Arendtsville, president of the Adams County Poultrymen's Federation, is going to find himself occupied with two "Sequicentennials" this year.

As a resident of near Arendtsville and one of the county's leading poultrymen, he will find himself participating with all other countians in Adams county's 150th anniversary.

As Pennsylvania director of the Northeastern Poultry Producers Council (NEPPCO) he will also find himself active with "The Sequicentennial of Poultry as a Business," the NEPPCO exposition to be held at Harrisburg October 3, 4, and 5 in the farm show building.

While the poultry program is being billed as a Sequicentennial, the principal theme of the convention will be the tremendous advances made in the poultry business since 1900.

Half-Century Theme

"The entire exposition will be built around the living proof that a free industry directed by enterprising individuals can in a mere half century lift itself from the backyard chicken raising stage to its present rank as the third greatest American agricultural enterprise," Heckenluber pointed out today.

The half-century theme will be carried out in every part of the program, the county poultryman noted. Decorations will be keyed to the exposition posters already blanketing the northeastern portion of the United States, 10 special non-commercial exhibits will show the progress made during the past half century in various poultry fields, custom-built commercial exhibits by various firms will carry out the same theme, and the various organizations which meet concurrently with NEPPCO will carry out the jubilee theme as well.

The educational program, which last year drew several hundred countians as well as thousands of poultrymen from throughout the eastern United States, will run mornings and afternoons of the three days.

The general subjects and the chairmen directing them follow: Breed improvement, Harvey C. Wood, general sales manager, Lime-stone Products Corp., Newton, N. J.; egg laying tests, C. S. Platt, research specialist, Rutgers university, New Brunswick, N. J.; feed, Dr. E. I. Robertson, director of nutrition, John W. Eschelman and Sons, Lancaster; nutrition, Dr. G. F. Heuser, professor of poultry husbandry, Cornell university, Ithaca, N. Y.; disease control, Dr. Fred R. Beaudette, poultry pathologist, Rutgers university, New Brunswick, N. J.; egg quality, Philip J. Wadhams, manager of Connecticut Farmers' Cooperative Auction Assn., East Hartford, Conn.; housing, Roy E. Jones, extension poultryman, University of Connecticut, Storrs, Conn.; packaging, O. F. Johndrew, Jr., marketing specialist, U.S.D.A., poultry branch, Washington, D. C.; and merchandising, Frank H. Ellis III, Neppco recording secretary, Elverson, Pa.

An expanded 4-H program will have egg judging and candling for interior egg quality on the competitive event schedule for the first time. Supplementing the demonstration program, a trip to Hershey, Pa. is on the schedule as well as the youth banquet, special 50-year 4-H exhibits, and participation medals to every competitor.

The annual banquet, far outgrowing its original quarters in the Penn-Harris hotel will be held in the Zombo Mosque with a seating capacity of 2,000. The program for the event, ticket sale for which will be held via mail for the first time, is not yet ready for announcement but will again include grown-to-order baby broilers, individually roasted and stuffed, as the main course.

Movie Making In Arendtsville

The motion picture being made at Arendtsville began with prayer. Members of the cast, production workers and others involved in the making of the United Lutheran Church of America film, "For Good or Evil," at Arendtsville bow their heads in the upper photo while Dr. Ralph D. Heim of the local Lutheran theological seminary conducts devotions before the cameras began rolling last week.

There are actually two "shows" being produced at Arendtsville during the filming of "For Good or Evil," being made for the stewardship department of the ULCA. One is the production itself—the film that will be shown throughout the world by the ULCA and other churches. The other "show" and the one that Arendtsville residents are currently enjoying, is the production of the film itself.

Some young fans are shown in the lower picture enjoying what might be termed a production number from the show "Making A Motion Picture."

1950 VERSION OF PIED PIPER

Meet a modern Pied Piper of Hamelin who would merely press a button to rid a farm of rodents.

He is Dr. Hubert W. Frings, associate professor of entomology at the Pennsylvania State College, who, assisted by his wife, Mrs. Mable Frings, has been studying the susceptibility of mice to running fits and seizures at different sound intensities.

For nearly two years, the Penn State scientists, under the sponsorship of the U. S. Air Force, have been trying to determine whether high-intensity sound waves can injure a human organism.

In conducting this research, the mice are placed in a wire cage which is placed inside of a sound-proof box with a window through which the actions of the mice can be observed.

A press of a button sets off a shrill, whining noise at a frequency of 10,000 cycles per second. The mouse is thrown into a fit similar to that of an epileptic. When the sound ceases, the mouse appears to be normal.

Judging from the attempts the mice make to escape the intense sound Dr. Frings feels that few mice will maintain a happy home in buildings exposed to the intense sounds, such as those being used in the research.

But instead of leading the rodents from their homes, as did the Pied Piper of Hamelin, Dr. Frings would drive them from the farms.

watching Ed Shannon, the make-up man, with white hair, back to camera, applying makeup to Gene O'Donnell, seated on porch, who plays the part of the doctor in the film. Shirley Eggleston, feminine lead, is shown checking her own make-up preparatory to a scene.

Maintain Egg Quality—Hot weather brings many problems to the poultryman and one of them is maintaining egg quality, says C. O. Doasin, extension poultry specialist of the Pennsylvania State College.

He suggests having the temperature around 55 degrees and keeping the air in the storage room moist. Also, gather eggs three times a day.

JOHNNY LONG ORCHESTRA TO PLAY AUG. 2

Johnny Long's orchestra will be featured next Wednesday, August 2, at the third in the series of dances and musical shows presented at the South Mountain Fair Grounds.

The series in the Memorial auditorium at the fair grounds is being held to raise funds for the South Mountain Community and Fair association to help defray expenses involved in renovating the fair grounds over the past several years.

Long, one of the most famous of modern band leaders, is probably the only well known left handed violinist in the modern musical world.

Switched Hands

He was born on a farm in Newell, N. C. His parents secured a violin teacher for him when he was five years old. When he was six, a pig bit Long on the left hand, severing the tendons of several fingers.

His teacher, fearing that her pupil's left hand might never be restored, re-stringing his violin and taught him to bow with the left hand and finger with the right—just backward to the positions employed by most violinists.

Long found the switch in positions little trouble and by the age of ten was able to do concert work, and continued presenting violin concerts until he was 16. At 17, he entered Duke university, where he majored in English.

Started In College

In 1931, Long and ten other Duke students formed "The Freshman orchestra" playing alternately in the men's and women's dining halls for their meals. In the summers they played at a White Lake, N. C. resort, with their billing changing from year to year from the "Duke Sophomores" to the "Duke Juniors" and finally the "Duke Collegians." The band began making professional dates in 1935 and continued to grow in popularity.

The band currently features vocalists Peggy Barrett and Jimmy Sedlar and drummer Floyd Sullivan. "The Long Shots" and the "Long Glee Club" are units of the band. The band is described as a "show in itself" and features ensemble-type vocals like "Shantytown," which helped make the orchestra famous in 1940, "Blue Skies" and a song written by Long, "Just Like That."

Tomato Spraying
Report Available

As the first popular report on agricultural research, a new publication on "Tomato Spraying in Pennsylvania" is available to growers. Dr. F. F. Lininger, director of the agricultural experiment station at the Pennsylvania State college, announced today. Copies of the new publication, Bulletin 531-P, can be obtained through county agents or direct from the station.

Dr. Lininger explained that if this plan proves feasible, more research material will be published in this form, stripped of its technical verbiage, as a means of keeping farmers informed of latest scientific findings. A parallel publication will cover the same subject with all the usual technical material and data resulting from the study.

This first publication, Bulletin 531-P, reports results of various fungicides used on tomatoes for control of late blight, early blight, and anthracnose, the three principal diseases striking tomatoes. No recommendations are included and only

The disturbance this time is about a miner named Arnold Dibble. Because of an injury, he worked only two days of a pay period. Union fees, including a $10 installment on the union's $50 initiation fee and $4 for monthly dues, left only $12.62 for Dibble to take home to his wife and three children.

The local wrote Lewis: "This doubling up and collecting all dues and fees from one pay period places an unfair hardship upon members as they can't live on unionism alone."

McCormick Mansion
Damaged By Fire

Harrisburg, July 25 (AP)—Fire caused an estimated $20,000 damage to the 120-year-old McCormick mansion, located two doors from the governor's mansion here.

Firemen fought the flames and smoke for more than an hour yesterday before bringing the blaze under control. Torches used by painters working on the cornice are believed responsible for the fire.

Most of the damage was confined to the roof and third floor of the home of the late Vance McCormick, former publisher of the Harrisburg Patriot and Evening News and one-time Democratic national chairman.

POOR RECORDS
AT SHAMOKIN

Harrisburg, July 26 (AP)—Auditor General Weldon B. Heyburn today reported "irregularities" and "poorly kept records" at the Shamokin State hospital during the fiscal year ended May 31, 1949. Heyburn made the charges in his annual audit of the institution records prepared for Gov. James H. Duff.

The report disclosed that $118,234 was written off by the institution as free service to patients, and it commented: "This amount of free service is excessive in comparison to the income of the hospital."

At the same time, Heyburn recommended that "greater care be taken in determining the credit state of patients." Free treatment is provided by the state to persons who show complete lack of ability to pay.

The report said that total charges to patients for the fiscal year included: $32,832, semi-private patients; $136,138, ward patients; $13,797, out patients, and $684 miscellaneous. This totaled $183,453.

The institution meanwhile collected $54,255, wrote off as uncollectable $13,797 and granted $118,234 in free service. Some of the collected amount was from bills owned from previous years.

Dilworth Alleges
GOP Is "Retreating"

Harrisburg, July 26 (AP)—Richardson Dilworth said today the Duff administration is "retreating without firing a shot" in moves to rehabilitate the economy of Pennsylvania's anthracite region.

The Democratic gubernatorial nominee cited a state report issued last May which advised young high school graduates to leave what it termed "this depressed region" and look for work elsewhere.

"This," said Dilworth, "represents a devastating blow at attempts to rehabilitate the anthracite region since a mass exodus of the young, vigorous and ambitious would leave only 'ghost' communities."

Dilworth added that the administration of Gov. James H. Duff has "done nothing" to help anthracite region residents, adding: "This advice to youth is clear evidence that it has no intention of doing anything."

Then the vegetables will grow to their proper size.
